

JANUARY 21st 2018

A number of folks have gleaned a number of clues pointing to January 21 as a significant day, a high watch day. I want to lay out observations I have gleaned from others and also present some research and thoughts of my own. I am just "putting these on the table" so to speak. The Holy Spirit is our only true teacher so we must take all information like this to Him.

January 21 is 153 days from the great American eclipse. In John 21, I observe that this specific number of fish "caught and presented to Jesus" caused the net to be "full". I wonder if this "full" detail points to the idea that the complete number of believers has now been brought to Jesus at this point. If so, this is significant to me because I hold to the idea that the rescue event will happen in two phases, likely 7 days apart (I will explain my thinking on this in part 2). From this possibility, I am wondering if perhaps phase 1 of the rapture of the "dead in Christ" (including those who have embraced being "dead to the world system" because we have embraced that they are only truly "alive to Jesus") might be taken home possibly as early as January 15.

I observe that January 21 is also 120 days from the Revelation 12 sign of the woman in the heavens who was about to give birth. This count number is significant for it was the count number given to Noah by God for the length of time He would allow rebellious mankind to repent before destructive judgment arrived. Might this very count point to when we go home just before the judgment begins? at least on "end of the church-age" Babylon?

In Daniel 10 and 11, the messenger to Daniel gave him quite a bit of detailed information about power struggles and conflicts of the nations around Israel, looking at years into the future.

What I find intriguing is when the account goes from an explanation of the time of Antiochus Epiphanies and the events of the 3 years leading up to what became the first Feast of Hanukkah, to then "leap frogging" a couple of thousand years to the time of the Antichrist in our very near future. This shift takes place in chapter 11 verse 36. Notice in verse 40, after the Antichrist has exalted himself, the messenger expresses that this is the end time, validating the "leap frog" understanding.

Thinking in terms of how Antiochus Epiphanies serves as a pretty good "type" for the person who will become Antichrist, making the account transition at this point in Daniel 11 makes sense.

What is very interesting to me is that the account transition is also Hanukkah. At least you can see why I am wondering if this month's Hanukkah according to the Biblical calendar might have a fulfillment, pointing to when the Antichrist is going to begin exalting himself. Might this begin right after the rescue/rapture event and the ensuing confusion and chaos? Again, January 21 is the 8th day of Hanukkah on the Biblical calendar.

Daniel 10 might have yet another clue pointing to January 21. I observe that Daniel was deeply mourning and seeking God about something, starting on the first day of the first month. He then stopped on the 21st day. Three days later Jesus revealed Himself in a definitely glorified state, on the 24th day. (If you disagree with me on who this is, that is OK. I am simply laying out what I know.)

I imagine myself in Daniel's place. After 21 days of fasting, seeking God on something you are deeply mourning about, and then you receive . . . nothing, I am thinking those three days before the answer finally came in the person of Jesus, were very sorrowful, low, even dark days. Daniel is an old man, who walked with God, and risked for and trusted God at an extreme that I have not even come close to. He had even waited for 70 years, at this point, to be able to finally go home, his heart's longing, yet here he is, still in a foreign land.

So, when I say the three days are dark days for Daniel, do you see why I thinking this? Can you relate to this in your own walk with God on some level. Daniel was human.

I say all of this because I am wondering if this time count of 21 days, and a following count of three very dark days, and then a subsequent meeting with Jesus in a glorified state, who brings understanding, that this might be a pattern. And I am thinking that this pattern may actually apply to this very month.

I am thinking that January on the Gregorian calendar might just be used by our Father, since it is the first month of our "civil" year, as our Tishri. Why?

As I have tried to line up all of these pieces over the years, I have carried this foundational conviction: that our Father will take all the heavenly signs, day counts, types and shadows fulfillments, Jubilee markers, and multiple calendars and dovetail all of these at very key moments, and in particular, when Jesus comes for us. I believe He will even do this for the calendar most of the world is currently using, even though it is a total fabrication of man. He will do this in mercy. His heart is for all the nations.

On January 21st, the sun enters God's constellation, commonly called Aquarius today. A couple stars in that constellation, per Bullinger's book, "Witness in the Stars", have ancient names that mean, "He who goes and returns". The picture of the constellation includes a man bearing a picture of water and pouring it out.

Recall that with the Tishri overlay, January 22nd corresponds to last great day of Tabernacles when Jesus promised that anyone who believed in Him, that one day, from their innermost selves would flow rivers of living water. This will happen for us when we get our new bodies. Might this happen January 21/22?

Concerning the Revelation 12 signs, the sign of the dragon took place on December 17th. When I add 120 days to that, I arrive at April 16, which I think may be the last day of the Jubilee.

Lastly, I want to include something that I think may be valid which a fellow watcher was given, and which I think points to January 21. A fellow watcher whom I trust, Gigi of Blue Heaven Youtube channel, shared (this is my summary) that during the years of the Blood Moon tetrad, God gave her a powerful, almost fearful (my description) vision/dream of an exceedingly tall, huge tree and from above it, in a very forceful voice, it was proclaimed, "21-0 America" three times. She expressed that the sense was of horrible, overwhelming judgment coming and this was some type of countdown. She knew she was expected to remember the dream/vision and give warning.

She has really wrestled over time to understand this. I have witnessed this sincere struggle over the years as I watched her videos. She is now thinking it is relating to now, even this month, and in particular to January 21st. I am thinking she is correct based upon what I have understood.

My interpretation is this: the huge tree matches/corresponds to the large tree in King Nebuchadnezzar's (king of Babylon) dream described in Daniel 4. It symbolized his kingdom and the reach of his power. He was being warned by God in the dream, and through Daniel's interpretation, to humble himself before God, break himself away from his sins and do righteousness, and from his iniquities and show mercy to the poor. (See 4:27).

If he not do this, then the kingdom would be removed from him, he would lose his mind, and have to survive just like an animal for seven years. After the seven years, if he humbled himself before the Creator, then and only then might the kingdom be restored back to him.

Nebuchadnezzar did not humble himself. He did not know that he was granted 12 months to truly repent. At the end of twelve months, the judgment immediately went into effect.

I believe the United States is the Babylon kingdom at this end of the church-age. We are symbolized by the large tree in both Nebuchadnezzar's dream and Gigi's vision in terms of our country's power and reach. However, our President is not a king. Instead, we actually have many people who currently "run" this country. I am thinking of the executive, congressional and judicial branches along with the military higher ups, corporations and even the media. I believe that when Trump was elected, the ruling leadership, including President Trump, were given 12 months to repent of the sins and iniquities that had been embraced by the country in the years prior.

I believe we were given 12 months last year when President Trump was sworn in. It was a countdown. On January 21, the count reaches 0 per Gigi's warning vision. Has America repented over the past year? If not, very soon our "kingdom" will be cut down.
